with Sally

● "Hope springs eternal in the human breast," and this week Sally was once more the victim of hope—hope that she could glide o'er the ice with the greatest of ease, hope that some day she would become a second Sonja Henie.

● But it was not to be. By the time our feet had shot out from under us a dozen times, we realized that Hollywood was not for Sally. Our weak explanation that it did take a little time to learn, didn't it, sounded pretty fishy.

● John helped us into the car, stopped at Edwards Drug store for an electric hot pad for our back, and then put us and our innumerable black and blue spots into bed. We've been here ever since.

● If we could, we'd remain indefinitely. To tell the truth, we feel like a big shot at last—giving orders from our bedside—listening to soft music from our Zenith radio from Byrne—admiring a blossoming plant John bought us in a moment of remorse from the Daly City nursery—eating fresh poached eggs and browned ham from Robertson's Egg store—thrusting our feet into a pair of beautiful new bedroom slippers from Bosco's Shoe store.

● The arrangement is not without its drawbacks, however. We have been forced to entrust our household matters to husband and children, and the results have been—well, peculiar.

● Saturday, for instance. We called downstairs and asked Sammy to put away the clean linen which had just returned all white and gleaming from the New Process Laundry company. But Sammy, it turned out later, was eating a piece of fresh French bread from the Geneva Bakery, literally swimming in raspberry jelly from Belli grocery.

● Sue Ann came home from the Saturday matinee at the Daly City theatre just in time to discover Sammy in a state of tears, with the jelly and the bread and the linen so mixed up that one was indistinguishable from the other.

● "I'll give half of my piece of pie for supper," he gulped, "if you'll help me out—and not tell Mom."

● Sue Ann deliberated for a moment, weighing the pie against the danger involved. It was banana cream pie from Waxman's Bakery, her favorite dessert.

● "And I'll throw in my fried chicken drumstick, too, the next time Pop buys a chicken from Bottini Poultry," he added. "I saw him up at the Hilltop Lodge a little while ago and he said maybe we'd have chicken Sunday."

● In the end Sue Ann's carnal appetites proved too much for her. Consequently, John came home some time later from buying new tires at the Rubber Products company to find Sue Ann with a big box of Fels Naphtha soap chips from Lucca Ravioli company, vigorously scrubbing all our clothes out on her toy washboard.

● It required only one horrified glance for John to see that his only dress shirt, which had been put into resplendent order for the Night Owls dance Saturday, was slowly being trampled into mud on the floor.

● What John muttered under his breath, we shall never know, but we do know (we wormed the whole story out of him later) that he felt reluctant to mention the matter to Mother.

● So after drinking a quick one he had mixed up with some of Gelsi's fine liquors, John rolled up his shirt sleeves and plunged into action.

● First he gave each of the children a sound spanking, despite the books on child psychology, and sent them both howling to bed with no more dinner than a bowl of hot soup from Westlake Market.

● Next he hooked up the washing machine, poured in a liberal amount of hot water from the teakettle and trusted that Heaven would reward his efforts.

French Toasted
Cheese Sandwich
with TOMATO CREAM SAUCE

by Dorothy Greig

A GLORIFIED sandwich is a good bet for Sunday supper, or for any other time you do not want to fuss much and still must whisk real food onto the table.

The one I give you here calls for just ordinary every day things—cheese, bread and tomato soup—items every woman has on hand.

Many a time this sandwich has come to the rescue when unexpected guests turned up, and "there wasn't a thing in the house to eat".

The Sandwich:

12 slices of bread
6 large slices cheese (about 1/2 inch thick)

1 cup milk
1/2 cup butter
Trim crusts from bread. Put a slice of cheese between two slices of bread to make a sandwich. Then dip sandwiches into egg and milk mixture and brown on both sides in melted hot butter. Brown slowly so that the cheese heats and melts. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Tomato Cream Sauce:

1 can condensed tomato soup
1 tablespoon cream
Combine the tomato soup and cream. Heat and serve over the French Toasted Cheese Sandwiches.

BULK

SALLY'S COLUMN — SCOUTING THE SHOPS

● Heaven did—with some of the grimmest, most torn, most unspeakable soggy grey clothing that human eyes have ever witnessed. Whistling to keep up his courage, John hung them up in the back yard with safety pins—he couldn't find the clothespins.

● Then he crashed back into the kitchen, fried an immense T-bone steak from Farmers Meat company, mixed up a salad with fresh greens from the Daly City Cut Rate Market and topped it all off with canned peaches from Miriam grocery. Carrying the loaded tray, he apprehensively mounted the stairs.

● We knew something was wrong when we saw his face. And when he refused to eat a mouthful, even turning down a glass of port from Vireno's market, we knew that a catastrophe had occurred.

● "John, what's the trouble?" we demanded.

● "Why, nothing. Nothing at all dear," he replied, mopping his brow. "Don't trouble your pretty head about trifles."

● We realized the situation was desperate. We merely looked at him.

● "By the way, you haven't forgotten our date for the Juvenile Drum Corps whist Tuesday, have you?" he inquired brightly, trying to evade the issue.

● "John, what has happened?" we repeated, sitting straight up.

● "You'll be the belle of the ball," he went on hastily. "Your red dress just came back from Beeson Cleaners and it looks like a million. By the way, you should have a new dress pretty soon, honey. By Easter anyway.

● At this last remark, the cold chills chased each other up and down our back. We put our hand on the telephone.

● "John, unless you tell us what has happened," we said in a tone of cold finality, "we're going to call in your Aunt Hepzibah to take over until we get out of bed."

● John looked so miserable we almost relented. He finally stammered out the truth. His apprehension would have melted a heart of stone.

● But we didn't have a heart of stone. Anyway we were so glad to have an excuse to give up our skating career that we wouldn't have cared if it had cost twice as much.

George and Millie

(Editor's Note: Technical information for this series has been supplied by The New Process Laundry.)

Dear Folks:

Father better come up to the city as fast as he can. I think George has lost his mind. He wants to quit his position as instructor of the Romance Languages and Egyptian History and take a job as salesman for the New Process Laundry. He says he can do more to aid humanity telling the housewife about quick, efficient laundry service than by teaching students a lot of things they don't want to know anyhow.

He sees himself as the liberator of thousands of housewives—as the man who set the woman of America at her rightful task of companionship with husband and children.

Now, I admit he has the right idea. Women shouldn't have to spend precious hours washing and ironing, but he needn't get carried completely away. He's so impressionable!

Worse yet, I'm sure the laundry would never hire him. He's got just about as much sales ability as I have at figure skating (which is NONE.)

Please come up and stop him before it is TOO LATE!

In haste,
MILLIE.

Gunpowder Plot

The famous gunpowder plot of history occurred when Guy Fawkes entered into a conspiracy to blow up the king, his ministers, and the members of both houses of parliament on November 5, 1605. His plans were discovered after he had placed barrels of gunpowder in the building and prepared them for ignition. He was tried, tortured, and publicly executed in 1606. Parliament set aside November 5 as a day of thanksgiving known as Guy Fawkes day, which continues to be celebrated in some parts of England.

Chloride Aids Cotton

According to a recent research report, the sprouting of cotton seed is materially increased by treatment with a weak mixture of ethyl mercury-phosphate or chloride.

Fire-Fighters Awards

Medals for heroism in fighting forest fires are awarded by the American Forest Fire foundation.

105 Miles of Tunnels

Tunnels aggregating 105 miles in length are part of the giant aqueduct which will carry Colorado river water to Los Angeles. The cost will be $220,000,000.

"Sting" Bible

A number of Bible editions have become known by a name due to some error in printing. Among them is the Sting Bible, an edition printed in 1746 by Thomas Baskett in London. The error is in Mark 7:35, which, in this edition, reads "the sting of his tongue." In other editions the word is bond.

JOAN BENNETT PLAYS HILARIOUS COMEDY IN NEW HIT "HOUSEKEEPER'S DAUGHTER"

Joan Bennett, who has become even more alluring as a dark-tressed glamour girl, is cast in a light comedy role as the heroine of Hal Roach's new screen romance, "The Housekeeper's Daughter," which is now playing at the Daly City theatre through United Artists release. Miss Bennett is co-starred with Adolphe Menjou in the new production, and their supporting cast reads like a galaxy of Hollywood's best known celebrities.

The story of "The Housekeeper's Daughter" concerns the mad happenings which take place in the swanky home of the socially prominent Randalls when the scion of the family falls in love with alluring Hilda, the housekeeper's daughter, and becomes involved in the mysterious murder of Gladys Fontaine, the Broadway actress. Robert Randall, played by John Hubbard, remains in town for the summer while his family is sojourning at a glittering sea resort and almost single-handed breaks open the crime. But not before his fashionable house is overrun by a mob of gangsters and newspapermen. With romance and crime marching side by side, a hilarious climax is provided in a big fireworks scene.

Companion feature on the new bill is "Secret of Dr. Kildare," starring Lew Ayres and Lionel Barrymore.

Versailles in Germany

On a lonely island in the Chiemsee in Germany stands one of the most amazing palaces in Europe—an almost identical reproduction of the chateau of Louis XIV at Versailles. The copy was built at tremendous expense by Ludwig II, the "mad king" of Bavaria, who cherished a great admiration for the French king and his famous country estate.

Secret of Success

Andrew Carnegie, who rose from a bobbin boy in a small mill, earning one dollar a week, to a multimillionaire, wrote his own epitaph: "Here lies a man who knew how to enlist in his service better men than himself."

Tennis Ball Mystery

Never mind the needle, Watson, the mystery of the bouncing rubber balls has solved itself. French sleuths were aghast, not to mention agog and a-twitter, when they found 600 hollow rubber balls on a highway leading from the Belgian frontier. When each was found to contain two pellets filled with liquid chemicals they suspected nothing less than an international plot to blow something up. Mystery was laughed away when a French manufacturer explained they were just ordinary tennis balls that had rolled off a truck in a routine shipment. The frightening pellets? Heat converted them to gas, which made the balls bounce better.

Beginnings of Kindergarten

Maria Montessori, the Italian educator, studied at the University of Rome and graduated in medicine in 1894, being the first woman in Italy to do so. She then took up the subject of educating defective children. From the experience thus acquired, she came to the conclusion that similar methods might be applied to normal children of a lower age, and after a series of experiments on a small scale she extended them to a large number of children in private and public nursery schools in Rome. Her ideas on education have been set forth in several books which have been widely translated.

Bears Welcome Tourists

Yellowstone is not the only place where bears welcome visitors, for tourists to Zakopane, Poland's famous holiday resort, report that huge polar bears meet them on the roads walking upright on their hind legs. They are men in bears' clothing usually accompanied by a photographer who will perform his function while the visitor poses between two terrifying brutes.

Oriental Broadcasts

Alternate broadcasts by Chinese and Japanese bands have been started in Peiping.

Adolphe Menjou, as a zany reporter, and Joan Bennett, as a modern-day heroine, don't see eye to eye romantically in Hal Roach's "The Housekeeper's Daughter," the new comedy-romance now at the Daly City theatre.

Service After Hours

A 12 o'clock closing order doesn't daunt the restaurant owners of Amsterdam. When midnight strikes, they close shop, but put automatic vending machines in front of their stores. These retail sandwiches, cake and even ice cream cones.

An Irishman's Handwriting

Americans visiting County Derry in Ireland like to stop at the little village of Maghera, the birthplace of Charles Thomson, secretary to the first U. S. congress, in whose handwriting the Declaration of Independence first appeared.

First Interview

The first presidential interview was held when George Washington decided to retire from the presidency. He sent for David C. Claypoole, editor of the Daily Advertiser in Philadelphia. After explaining his plans to Claypoole, he informed him that he had some reflections upon the occasion which he wished to communicate to the people of the United States through the Daily Advertiser. Claypoole was given a copy of the Farewell address, which he published in his paper in the edition of September 19, 1793.

Largest Jewel

The Smithsonian institution has acquired the world's largest jewel. The stone is an almost flawless crystal of topaz, weighing 153 pounds, or 300,000 carats. The average topaz for a ring or necklace weighs about five carats. The huge gem was discovered in the Minas Geraes province of Brazil. Its color is pale blue on the outside and a pale sherry on the inside.

Movie Fan

On a visit to the penal colony on Devil's Island, French Guiana, Cameraman Pierre-Andre Martineau discovered the world's most enthusiastic movie fan. He was a convict whose body bore tattooed portraits of Garbo, Marlene Dietrich, Mary Pickford and other film stars. His gallery is now complete; he has no more room for pictures.

Baby Snooks

Here is a caricature of Fanny Brice as Baby Snooks who headlines a new edition of GOOD NEWS OF 1940, beginning Thursday, March 7 (9 p. m., EST, NBC-Red). It's done by William Sharp, internationally famous caricaturist, who has been exhibited in most European countries. In America he has been staff artist for the New York Post and for Esquire magazine. He's had one-man shows in the Chicago Art Institute, the New York Whitney Museum, the New York World's Fair, and is in the permanent section of American art in the New York Public Library.

Rugby in England

The great sports of English winters are Rugby football matches when England matches Scotland, Ireland, and Wales. They open with a game which is announced as England vs. The Rest.

'Going to the Dogs'

Relief at Fremont, Ohio, has been "going to the dogs," according to the dog warden, Hiley Mook, who reported that a large part of the milk furnished daily for eight children was being fed to four dogs of a rural relief client. Mook took the dogs.

To Hold Benefit Whist Tuesday

A benefit whist, proceeds of which will be used to buy drums for the Daly City Juvenile Drum corps, will be held in Theatre hall, March 5, at 9 p. m.

A cash first prize is offered as well as many other awards, including a door prize.

Chairmen for the whist are Mrs. James Pearlman, Mrs. Shirley Remmer and Mrs. Genevieve Rosenberg.

The juvenile drum corps, made up of 30 children between six and sixteen years of age, marched in the Washington's birthday parade on Market street, Thursday.

Many events are planned for the corps when drums are procured.

A benefit drawing was held Tuesday evening at 876 Brunswick, with Tom Herbert, San Francisco, winner of the cash award.

The public is cordially invited to the whist party.

Night Owls To Hold Dance

Night Owls will hold their regular dance, Saturday night, at Lovchen Gardens, Colma, but according to officers of the club it will be more than just a regular dance.

It is reported that special arrangements have been made to make this Saturday's dance bigger and better than any former Night Owl's affair. The committee personally invites all dance enthusiasts to be present.

Night Dance Gloves

The International Amateur Bowling federation has stipulated gloves in bouts under its jurisdiction must weigh eight ounces, the leather and stuffing not to exceed four ounces each.

Flying Fish

Flying fish have greater speed against the wind than with it.

Keep Moving

Los Angeles has started giving police tags to motorists moving too slowly on Wilshire boulevard, a main traffic artery.

New Tree Pruner

A new tree pruner, operating on hydraulic pressure, easily cuts limbs up to two inches thick. Extension poles enable the operator to remove a limb 20 feet from the ground.

Wrestler to Africa

Wrestler "Whiskers" Blake, six feet seven inches, thin and wiry, known to Canadian mat fans, arrived in Africa for 14 days, but has stayed there three years because he likes it.

Bathes Fad Not New
The bathes fad, which was at its height in '32 and '33, was neither new nor collegiate. It dated back before the American Revolution to the time when English dandies carried their hats in their hands to avoid mussing their curled and powdered wigs.

Old New York Residences
One of New York's oldest private residences on Fifth Avenue below Central Park is that of Gen. Cornelius Vanderbilt at Fifty-first Street.

The wearing of bathing suits to business in hot months is being advocated in London.

Good Wading
Palanga, a Lithuanian coast resort 100 years old which has a tourist population twice the number of its own inhabitants, has one of the safest sandy beaches of the Baltic. You can wade out 50 feet on the sandy ocean floor before the sea reaches the knees. It is a paradise for children's play.

Save the plaster
Before driving a nail into plaster, place it in hot water for a few minutes and it will not crumble the plaster.

Ancient Rocks
The oldest rocks whose age has been definitely determined are in South Dakota and Manitoba—1,700,000,000 years old.

500 Trucks for Highway
The Chinese government will place 500 motor trucks on the Kuming-Luchow-Chunking highway.

Boulder Dam Power
The Boulder dam power plant produces about one-fifth of all the electrical energy used in southern California. Fishing is permitted the year round in Lake Mead, the giant body of water formed by the dam.

Weed Growth
Proof of the tremendous strength of growing weeds was shown at Winnipeg, Manitoba, when a piece of lumber an inch thick, through which had grown a dandelion root, was found in a lumber yard.

Divorce in Canada
The steady increase of divorce in Canada is attracting the attention of sociologists and statisticians of the Dominion. The figures steadily mount. In 1918, there were only 114 divorces in all the country. In 1928, the figure had risen to 783 and in 1938, to 1,863.

England Population Increases
England's population increased very slowly during the 700 years preceding 1800, then started a rapid rise which still continues.

Church as Stable
The churches of Kilbenny in Ireland have been put to various uses in the past. The cathedral has been a stable, the Franciscan Priory a tennis court, the Black Abbey a courthouse, while the parish church has served both as a barracks and a hospital.

Beri Beri and Rice
The disease beri beri, which is common throughout the Orient, is caused by deficiencies in the common diet of polished rice.

Disney Cartoon
Walt Disney hereafter will be correct in depicting white lyrebirds. One just discovered in the Combien district of East Gippsland, Australia, is declared by experts to be the first perfect albino lyrebird ever seen.

Genius and Love
When the supreme light in us inspires the intellect we have genius, when it stirs the will we have heroism, when it flows through the heart we have love.
